Join us weekly for 60 minutes of learning, sharing, and connecting as we focus on implementing high leverage instructional and engagement strategies in remote settings. We know the best way to learn is from teachers and we're creating a space for Wayne County educators to brainstorm best practices, share ideas, and find solutions.

We'll take a practical look at implementing high-leverage instructional practices as well as engagement strategies in remote settings. You can expect a quick community builder, a short professional learning, followed by opportunities to discuss and share ideas with educators from across Wayne County. Whether you're a remote teaching pro, new to online instruction, or just plain curious, these sessions are for you!

Together we will put high-leverage instructional and engagement practices into action!
